

Study Abroad Program Guide for PUBLIC HEALTH MAJORS

	TEMPLE PROGRAM OPTIONS Temple administers several programs around the world, including our sites in Rome, Japan, and Spain; faculty-led summer programs; and Exchange Programs in Europe and Asia. Visit our website for details, deadlines and to apply.	EXTERNAL PROGRAM OPTIONS You can participate in approved programs organized by study abroad organizations or other U.S. universities, or you can apply directly to an accredited institution overseas. The Education Abroad website and resource library have information on our approved programs, and our advisors can work with you to determine which program might provide the best fit. To participate in an external program/direct enroll, you must complete Temple’s External Program Approval Process. Visit our website for details.
I plan to take at least some major courses while abroad.		External Programs / Direct Enroll Approved external programs that offer public health courses taught in English are available in multiple countries. Programs in Argentina, the Dominican Republic, Chile, Ecuador, Mexico and Spain are also open to students with a strong Spanish language background (typically 4-5 semesters of college level Spanish). Many public health programs offer internships, service learning placements, or opportunities for independent research. To search for programs, visit the websites of each program provider listed below and filter by your discipline on their program search page. Recommended External Programs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Arcadia University: multiple programs in South Africa and the UK, as well as summer internships in Australia; use their Program Type and Subject filters to find programs that match your interests.</li> <li>▪ Boston University: Ghana (summer) and Switzerland (semester and summer)</li> <li>▪ CIEE: Argentina (summer), Botswana (semester and summer), Dominican Republic (summer), Thailand (semester), and summer comparative health programs in London and other locations. I am interested in pursuing a program/courses related to health studies, community development or service learning, but I don't need credit in public health.	Temple Summer Programs Temple's faculty-led summer programs offer courses in a variety of disciplines that have included service learning and community development research. Visit Temple's Education Abroad website for information about all of Temple's summer programs abroad.	External Programs Focusing on Community Development or Service Learning In addition to the countries listed above, many of our recommended external providers offer service learning or independent study/research opportunities that do not offer public health credit but could be related to public health. Example countries include Ghana and India. Note that proficiency in the host country's language is not always required to participate.  See Recommended External Program Providers in Section Above
I don't plan to take any major courses while abroad. Instead, I plan to fulfill other academic requirements.	Visit Temple's Education Abroad website for information about all of Temple's programs abroad.	External programs are available worldwide. Please refer to Temple's approved list of external study abroad programs on our website for further details.
I would like to fulfill GenEd requirements while abroad.	Students who successfully complete (with a C- or better) credit-bearing coursework worth at least three semester hours in a Temple summer or semester study abroad program with a minimum stay abroad of 28-days will satisfy the World Society (GG) requirement.  In addition, some summer faculty-led programs may offer GenEd courses, and Temple Rome and Temple Japan offer several GenEd courses each semester and in the summer.	Students who successfully complete (with a C- or better) credit-bearing coursework worth at least three semester hours in an approved external summer or semester study abroad program with a minimum stay abroad of 28-days will satisfy the World Society (GG) requirement.  Some appropriate external program courses may fulfill GenEd requirements. GenEd requirements which are most commonly found abroad include Arts, Human Behavior, and Race and Diversity. As part of Temple's External Study Abroad Approval process, GenEds, like all external courses, must be evaluated and pre-approved.

WHAT ARE MY NEXT STEPS?

- If you haven't already attended a mandatory FOUNDATIONS OF STUDY ABROAD INFORMATION SESSION in Education Abroad, contact or stop by the Education Abroad office to sign up for one today.
- Meet with your ACADEMIC ADVISOR to discuss how and where study abroad fits into your academic plan.
- Once you have attended Foundations of Study Abroad and met with your academic advisor, if you would like further guidance or have additional questions, feel free to schedule an appointment with an Education Abroad advisor.
